

Ex-news

staffer dies

14 Nov 1983

Mrs. Frances M. Andrew of Albuquerque, N.M., formerly of Central City, died Friday in Albuquerque. She was 71.

Mrs. Andrew was a retired staffer of The Windber Era. She handled news, advertising and worked as a clerk.

After her retirement in 1971, she was a correspondent for the Era and The Tribune-Democrat in the Shade Township-Central City area until 1977, when she moved to Albuquerque.

She is survived by her husband, Samuel, and three children.

ANDREW — Mrs. Frances M., 71, Albuquerque, N.M., formerly of Central City, died Nov. 11, 1983, in Albuquerque. Born Dec. 6, 1911, in Wehrum, daughter of late Battista and Antoinette Trimeloni. Preceded in death by parents; four brothers and one sister. Survived by husband, Samuel; daughters, Leah, wife of Richard Coughenour, Albuquerque; and Antoinette, wife of Robert D. Bloom, Montrose; and son, Samuel F., married to former Becky Means, Natrona Heights; also eight grandchildren. Sister of E. Olga Parkinson and Reynald M. Trimeloni, both of Johnstown.